

The House of Stone and Light QUEENE ANNE, WASHINGTON

An architectural expression. A site blessed with a panorama of views: endless mountains, blue waters from the lake to the Sound and the Seattle skyline. Nearly every room engages sweeping views of the region's most prized possessions.

A canvas just shy of 10,000 square feet with private arboretum grounds, Japanese Maples and secret gardens. Innovative and sustainable. Palatial and intimate. Boundaries blur the lines between indoor and outdoor spaces. A world where voluminous spaces still offer intimacy.

An interior designed to compliment the finest art collections while also providing durable settings for the most casual of lifestyles. Award winning lighting and terrazzo floors. Pennsylvania Bluestone accents. A gracious environment for entertaining also provides an intimate setting for friends. A gourmet kitchen offers function and form while providing spaces to create and enjoy.

A two-story library opens to the scholar's courtyard. A monumental staircase is sculpture all its own. The master suite is a true refuge claiming edge-of-the-world views from the private deck. An award winning design. An unprecedented offering. $8,500,000.
